

Female Reproductive System

Across

1. endometrium is reabsorbed by the uterus, vagina permits only a certain time for mating
4. neck of the uterus which opens into the vagina
5. connect ovaries to the uterus
13. embryonic hormone that maintains secretion of progesterone and estrogen
15. thin piece of tissue that covers the vaginal opening
16. thick, muscular organ that expands during pregnancy
18. slender skin folds next to vestibule

Down

2. fetus grows about 30cm and begins to be active
3. encloses and protects the labia minora and vestibule
6. glands located near the vaginal opening, secretes mucus into the vestibule
7. thin-walled chamber that serves as the birth canal
8. fetus grows to 50 cm, birth of baby happens
9. when almost all organs of an embryo form
10. short shaft supporting a rounded glands, or head
11. the endometrium is shed during this cycle
12. inner lining of uterus that is supplied with blood vessels
13. estrogen, progesterone GnRH, FSH, LH
14. forms 3 polar bodies and 1 ovum
17. Follicular phase, ovulatory phase, luteal phase
19. contains follicles that are released during ovulation

20 of 20 words were placed into the puzzle.

Created by Puzzlemaker at DiscoveryEducation.com

